C4I Guest Lecture: "Interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary institutionalization: lessons and challenges from a "two-level" analysis" Presented by Dr. Bianca Vienni Baptista, Transdisciplinarity Lab, ETH Zurich

JANUARY 22, 2021
12:00 PM – 1:30 PM

 Passcode: msuc4i

Addressing institutional requirements with regards to inter- and transdisciplinarity is a challenge that is currently being discussed worldwide. In this talk, I focus on the institutionalization of inter- and transdisciplinarity in Higher Education institutions and present an analysis of those processes.

Based on my research on different institutionalization processes of inter- and transdisciplinarity in Latin America, Europe and Asia, this talk seeks to shed light on the challenges that inter- and transdisciplinarity face to become widespread at universities. I develop a two-level analysis that allow to compare the formal characteristics given to collaborative policies with the actual inter- and transdisciplinary practices taking place in universities. Findings reveal that inter- and transdisciplinarity have a "double-identity" that is translated into different levels of institutionalization. In such a way, overall institutionalization processes constitute an iterative process, in which these levels mutually can reinforce or hinder each other.

2021 University Interdisciplinary Colloquium

"Art-Based Inquiry and Social Science Research with Transnational Latino Families"

Pilar Horner, School of Social Work

1/29/2021, 12PM-1PM
 Zoom Link: <https://msu.zoom.us/j/98504663406>
 Passcode: msuc4i

This project will describe the approach of using art and social science research to illicit power stories from Latino families post Hurricane-Maria. Based on Walsh's Resilience Theory, we examine how art-inquiry can deepen our theoretical understandings of how Latino families face trauma with resiliency.

2021 University Interdisciplinary Colloquium

Every other Friday starting 1-29-2021
 12PM-1PM via Zoom

Zoom Link: <https://msu.zoom.us/j/98504663406>
 Passcode: msuc4i

The University Interdisciplinary Colloquium celebrates excellence in interdisciplinary research that involves humanists or artists as partners. Presentations will be delivered by accomplished interdisciplinary scholars who are engaged in work that integrates a wide variety of perspectives, including the full range of perspectives within the university as well as those from outside the university.

Below you'll find our draft Spring 2021 schedule, stay tuned for more info!

12th Annual International Science of Team Science Conference Abstract Submission NOW OPEN

The SciTS 2021 Conference Planning Committee is pleased to announce that next year's Science of Team Science conference will be presented 100% online. We ask you to save the extended dates June 7-11, 2021 to join us for an online conference rich in discussion and engagement infused with the principles of team science. While we were looking forward to welcoming you to the greater Washington, D.C. metro area, we understand that so many are experiencing uncertainty and stress in their personal and professional lives. We want to prioritize your safety and wellbeing by offering an online event that will provide the flexibility and accessibility needed during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

The 12th Annual International Science of Team Science Conference hosted by Virginia Tech aims to advance our understanding of collaborative initiatives that address multidimensional complex societal problems. The theme of the SciTS 2021 is Science of Team Science and the Human Condition. As a point of convergence between science and practice, the conference will provide a platform to investigate contributions that team science research can make to addressing urgent contemporary challenges. This year's conference will highlight the interface of the science of team science with challenges such as:

- * responding to megadisasters (e.g., the COVID pandemic, hurricanes, and fires).
- * curtailing systemic racism and the need to create and implement anti-racist policies and practices, including technologies, and
- * grappling with challenges in large growing metropolitan regions, such as equitable economic growth, affordable housing, education, healthcare, food scarcity, infrastructure systems (including IT systems), and the impacts of climate change.

Our call for abstracts is now open! We invite team science academics, leaders and members of cross-disciplinary teams, institutional leaders and administrators, and funding agencies to collaboratively rethink how science of team science research and practice may serve as a foundation for positive change and justice. The following options are available:

1. Individual Pre-recorded Splash Talks
2. NEW! Interactive and Participatory Sessions
3. Collaborative Panel
4. SIG Panel
5. Workshop
6. NEW! Early Career Colloquium
7. NEW! Graduate Student Colloquium

To view the full announcement and to submit your abstract for review, please follow this link: inscits.org/cfa2021. Please direct all conference-related questions to Briana Blanchard bnblanch@vt.edu.

We look forward to seeing you online in June 2021!
 Sincerely,
 Shalini Misra and Anne Khademian, SciTS2021 Conference Co-Chairs (On behalf of the SciTS2021 Conference Planning Committee)

Call For Student Papers

The Agriculture, Food, and Human Values Society (AFHVS) invites submissions from undergraduate and graduate students to the 2021 AFHVS Student Research Paper Awards. The papers can come from students in a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds and should be on some topic of relevance to the Society's focus. See more details in the full Call for Papers.

Winners will be invited/expected to present their paper at the June 2021 virtual conference co-hosted by:

- The Association for the Study of Food and Society (ASFS)
- Agriculture Food & Human Values Society (AFHVS)
- Canadian Association for Food Studies (CAFS) -Society for the Anthropology of Food & Nutrition (SAFN)

Each award also includes:

- The opportunity to present at the 2021 virtual conference;
- Free registration to the 2021 virtual conference (see Call for Abstracts);
- A two-year membership in the Society;
- $300 cash prize (not available to students that are not U.S. citizens, due to IRS restrictions).

The committee may also choose to award honorable mentions, which do not include the monetary items.
